State Board Denies County Tax Reduction

Columbiana County Situation Clouded After Auditor Speaks

The Ohio Board of Tax Appeals said today that it has not authorized any reduction in land values in Columbiana County as announced last week by County Auditor I. J. Vorndran.

Vorndran, in his statement of last Wednesday, said county officials had ordered a 20 per cent land tax reduction, acting on authority of the state tax appeals board.

County Treasurer Vincent Judge indicated afterwards that neither he nor William Southan, county commissioner who, with Vorndran and Judge comprise the county board of tax revision, knew nothing of a decision to lower land values.

Land values, however, are charged at 100 per cent of valuation and property at 50 per cent.

Says Not Submitted

The State Tax Board said today it can "approve or disapprove real estate tax abstracts as submitted. The Columbiana County abstract has never been submitted."

City and rural school district boards of education are alarmed by Vorndran's announcement of a land tax reduction since it would cut needed operating funds tremendously.

Late budget hearings for school districts already has proven costly to some school boards. A delay by the county auditor's office last year forced the Salem Board of Education to borrow money in anticipation of tax money and this cost the local school board $3,000 in interest. Funds normally should be advanced in December but this was not done until April.

The mounting confusion over the land values tax apparently stems from a decision made by the auditor's office two years ago when lands were taxed at 100 per cent of their values and properties at 50 per cent.

Some Columbiana County court-house attaches have referred to this as an "illegal charge."

Auditor is Mum

County Auditor Vorndran, since his original announcement, has said that he is saying nothing further about the land tax reduction. "Come back after the election and you can have all the information you want," he said. Vorndran is a candidate for re-election.

A total of 800 complaints have been filed at the Courthouse protesting "too high" appraisals of real property as the result of the county real estate reappraisal two years ago. A number of Salem downtown property owners have filed protests. Complaints from East Liverpool represent one million dollars, it is learned.

Before the reappraisal was made some new properties in Salem alone had not been on the tax duplicate for five years, no taxes being paid. The unchanged taxes cannot be collected.

Lions Club Completes Children's Eye Tests

Lions Club members Thursday completed eye examinations of the third grade children in Salem's schools, Glenn Robbins, project chairman, reported today.

Figures regarding the number of children tested and those requiring further examinations have not been compiled yet, Robbins said.

The annual Lions Club project was undertaken this year in conjunction with the "Light for Sight" campaign in which members are engaged this month.

Proceeds of the latter project, which involves the sale of light bulbs, aid the club in its school sight program. Floyd Craig is "Light for Sight" chairman.

Chest Teams Collect $9,035 In Three Days

A tabulation of partial returns after three days of canvassing by Community Chest drive teams shows contributions totaling $9,035, with only half of the 10 teams reporting.

The drive to aid 10 agencies got under way Monday night with a kickoff dinner and is expected to raise $45,810 before the campaign ends the last of this month.

Directed by Chairman George Emery and Assistant Chairman Walter B. Null, the funds raised will benefit the Boy and Girl Scouts, the Memorial Building, Salem City Hospital, Central Clinic Hospital, Catholic Charities, Home Nursing Service, Home for Aged Ladies, Salvation Army, Legion Quaker City Band and the United Defense Fund.

The reporting five teams were Executive, Quota Club, Chain Stores, Perry Township and Residential.

Third Child In Area Family Ill Of Polio

A third child of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Clair of RD 1, Hanoverton, is in "fairly good" condition at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Youngstown, where she was admitted with polio Wednesday.

The newest county victim is Freda Clair, 13-year-old student at United Local School. Her case was termed non-paralytic.

The case was probably not a school contact, Dr. George B. Pantera, county health commissioner said today, as he announced that United Local will re-open Monday morning. Classes were halted for the past two weeks to limit spread of the disease.

Two other Clair children, Richard, 10, and Jack, 2½, are still patients at St. Elizabeth Hospital. Nurses report they are making "satisfactory progress."

The announcement of a 14th Salem polio victim, Barbara Clunan, raised the county total to 36 this season. She is the 6½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clunan of 543 Perry St.

Over 700 elementary students will return to classes at United Local, which were discontinued while half of the group were given gamma globulin.

"It appears safe to re-open the school since the time it was closed is equivalent to the incubation period of the polio virus, which is seven to 14 days," Dr. Pantera said.

"Therefore, any new cases reported in the New Garden district could not be attributed to school contacts," he added.

He said it is a useless control measure to keep the school closed considering the marked drop in polio cases the past week.

Ike Ends 8-Week Vacation, Heads For Washington

To Make Major Farm Speech Tonight On Stop In Indianapolis

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower ends an eight-week work-and-play Colorado vacation today and heads back to Washington via Indianapolis, where tonight he makes a major farm speech the Republicans hope will win them votes.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower, both well rested and reluctant to leave, were scheduled to take off from Lowry Air Force Base at 1 p.m. and to arrive in Indianapolis about 5:30 p.m.

Their private plane, the Columbine, is due in Washington shortly after midnight.

Eisenhower's address at Butler University field house in Indianapolis tonight is being billed by the White House as "nonpartisan" but it's on an important congressional campaign issue—the administration's controversial farm program.

GOP Fools Bill

And the Republican National Committee is footing the bill for a half-hour nationwide radio broadcast of the address (NBC) and a 60-station, 15-state farm belt telecast (Du Mont).

The President will start speaking at 9 p.m. EST.

Despite the "nonpartisan" label, GOP farm area leaders are counting heavily on the President to bolster the party's campaign to keep control of Congress in the Nov. 2 elections.

Last night the President celebrated his 64th birthday at a dinner at a downtown hotel with Mrs. Eisenhower and a small group of close friends.

Gifts Four In

Birthday gifts have poured in from all over the nation. They include two calves for his Gettysburg farm in Pennsylvania—one a Black Angus, the other a Hereford; trout rods and reels; an old scotch bellows for the farm fireplace; and outdoor barbecue equipment, also for use at the farm.

Aides said Eisenhower is going back to Washington more rested and relaxed than he has been in a long time. He got in a lot of golf and fishing, but the White House emphasized he did a lot of work too.

It put out a tabulation stating among other things that in the eight weeks:

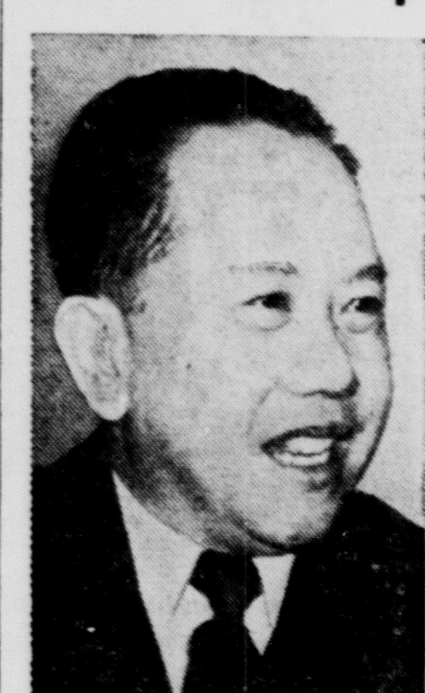

The President spent the great majority of all the weekday mornings at work in his Lowry Air Base office. He worked a couple of Sundays too, including one when the National Security Council met in Denver.

He made 17 formal speeches in and out of Denver, some of them nationwide radio- television addresses plugging for election of a Republican Congress.

He had 225 business callers, averaging more than six a day. He acted on 513 bills passed by Congress, during the last days of the session.

"HAZEL" STRIKES IN HAITI—The year's biggest hurricane is heading toward American shores after inflicting severe damage to Haiti, nearly destroying two of its cities. Winds up to 115 mph blasted the city of Jeremie leaving the scene shown above. Some 306 homes were washed away, 1,250 heavily damaged and hundreds of others left in bad condition. There was no estimate of dead or injured, although figures have been placed in the hundreds.

Defense Moves, Crank Letters May Delay Dr. Sheppard Trial

CLEVELAND (AP)—A pair of defense maneuvers and a batch of crank letters were bubbling today into a legal brew that may delay the opening of the first degree murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard.

The defense moves were motions for a change of venue and a delay in the trial because of the widespread publicity given to the case that started when Sheppard's wife was bludgeoned to death in her bed last July 4.

The crank letters, whose addresses included at least three of 75 persons called for possible jury duty in the trial, declared that the accused osteopath was being "railroaded" in a world-wide plot.

Chances Look Brighter For Union Merger

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prospects for a long-debated merger of the AFL and CIO appeared brighter today than ever as leaders of the two big union groups gathered today in a new effort to heal their 19-year-old split.

Successful negotiation of a "no-raiding" agreement between the rival groups four months ago was heralded as a promising initial move toward amalgamation.

Presidents George Meany of the AFL and Walter Reuther of the CIO brought their top aides together expecting to get down to the contentious job of working out the mechanics of an actual merger.

Despite the expressed optimism, an outright failure in the new merger effort—with so many conflicting personalities among the union chiefs and varying claims of organizing area rights—would surprise nobody. Numerous previous merger efforts all failed.

Meany and Reuther have worked steadily on the idea in the two years since they succeeded to the top union jobs.

Meany told the AFL convention a few weeks ago he looked for fast action in achieving a merger and saw no reason why it should be "talked or conferred to death."

Reds May Seize Indonesia Rule

Economic Condition Makes Nation Ripe

By The Associated Press

Dispatches from Indonesia indicate today a worsening economic-political situation which is bringing the Communist party there ever closer to striking distance of power.

The dispatches tell of skyrocketing prices, of shortages of bread, canned foods, powdered milk and other foodstuffs, of hoarding and of complaints by importers that they are the victims of shake-downs by political parties.

More ominously, the army chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Bambang Sugeng, who has been constantly at odds with the Defense Ministry, apparently is having a difficult time preventing the ministry from arming what may amount to a Communist-controlled militia.

The dangerous elements which have been present in Indonesia's politics ever since it gained sovereignty from the Dutch are coming more and more to the fore. Thus, Gen. Sugeng, apparently on the verge of being forced from his job as chief of staff, has been hard put to prevent the rise of what could amount to a Communist police force.

The Communists long have been campaigning for arms for an organization called Perpepsi. Those are the initials of a group called "The Union of Former Guerrilla Fighters," whose members took part in the underground war against the Dutch in pre-sovereignty days. It is now a Communist-dominated group and probably Communist controlled.

School Is Planned For Foreign-Born

In the school conducted two years ago under the public school system, 45 pupils were enrolled and those people are asked to bring with them the books they used at that time. There will be a beginners class, as well as one or two advanced classes.

Storm Covers Wide Area, Heads North; Damage Mounting

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Hurricane Hazel, packing winds of more than 100 miles an hour, crashed into the Carolinas coast today.

The huge tropical storm, which wrought heavy damage and loss of life Tuesday in Haiti, tore at a long section of the North Carolina-South Carolina beach area as it once again hit land.

The Weather Bureau said the center of the storm reached the coastline about 9 a.m., near Myrtle Beach. The last report from there said the barometer was "dropping vertically, wind northeast 69 miles per hour, evacuating station, last report."

The storm center was moving forward at 25 to 30 miles an hour. At 9:40 a.m., the wind at Wilmington reached 75 to 85 miles an hour.

The hurricane winds spread across a path of about 120 miles wide. The dangerous winds swept out some 80 miles in advance of the center.

The winds and tides they generated tore at the coastline and damaged shore installations and communications as they struck.

High Tides To Continue

The Weather Bureau said the high tides would continue for some time in the Myrtle Beach area. Myrtle Beach is a resort community about halfway up the South Carolina coast.

Hurricane warnings were hoisted all the way from Charleston, S.C., to the Virginia Capes, but the Bureau said only gale force winds would be experienced at Charleston.

Torrential rain accompanied the storm and heavy rain fell over a large portion of the two states.

A special advisory from the Washington Weather Bureau said the storm was expected to turn northward and move across North Carolina, central Virginia and pass a short distance west of Washington this afternoon.

First to suffer as the hurricane struck were beach houses and fishing piers. Most beach areas had been evacuated before the storm struck.

The sheriff's office at Conway, S.C., reported that an 800-foot fishing pier at Tighman's Beach, north of Myrtle Beach, washed away. Myrtle Beach police said a pier at Spivey's Beach, south of Myrtle, also fell victim to the towering waves.

Communications Out

Communications went out in some areas. Phone lines to Myrtle Beach went out of commission as AP correspondent Noel Yancey was reporting on conditions there.

Wrightsville Beach, east of Wilmington, and Carolina Beach, south of Wilmington, feared a repetition of the two-million-dollar damage they suffered Aug. 1, 1944, in the most severe hurricane to strike this section in modern times.

Waves pounding at beach houses

Leyman said he stole a one-half-ton truck owned by Alfred Stanton from in front of the latter's home at 363 E. 6th St. He said he later wrecked the vehicle in a field on the Stratton Rd.

The youth stated he stole an auto on Leffingwell Rd. Tuesday night after he fled his home as Mahoning County deputies and Salem police were approaching to question him regarding the truck thefts. He said he drove the car to Warren, where an oncoming auto forced him to swerve the vehicle into a ditch.

COLUMBIANA — Columbiana Music Study Club was host this year for the annual joint dinner meeting with the Sorosis Club in opening the season, which was held in the dining room of the Methodist Church Wednesday evening. Each club is host in alternate years.

Mrs. Zelda Rodgers, vice president of the Music Club, welcomed the Sorosis guests, and Mrs. Paul Reeves responded.

Mrs. David Holloway, program chairman, presented two Youngstown soloists, Miss Mary Pappas, soprano, and Thomas Evans, baritone, who gave a program, with Mrs. John Hill of Youngstown as accompanist. The soloists are students of Mrs. Charles Weick in Youngstown.

Parents received information at the October meeting of the Parent-Teacher Organization in the High School auditorium, Wednesday evening, on what their children are being taught in Columbiana schools.

Mrs. Vera Frasier, teacher in the fourth grade, explained the curriculum in the elementary department, and Principal Gayle Gloss explained the curriculum of the High School.

Preceding the program, football coach Richard Berryman demonstrated football techniques and the necessary uniforms and equipment, and discussed the value of school athletics in general.

President Eugene Crawford presided. At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served in the home economics room by Mrs. Elmer Detwiler, Jr., Mrs. Regis Boring, Mrs. Paul Adcock and Mrs. Harold Oaks.

Fifteen of some 60 Negroes from the West Indies, who have been employed at picking apples in the vicinity, left in a special Greyhound bus Wednesday evening for Leesburg, Fla., where they will be employed in the vegetable harvest.

Five more left yesterday for Florida, three for the vegetable harvest at Clewiston, and two whose ultimate destination is Kingston, Jamaica. The remaining apple pickers will be here until early November.

TWENTY EIGHT members of the mother's group met at Fairfield School, Wednesday afternoon, when Mrs. Ruth Bell read from the Parent-Teacher Magazine an article, "Some Get Along, Some Don't — Why?" A general discussion followed the reading. "Boards of Education" was the title of a movie shown. The next meeting will be Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 17.

Mrs. Mae Tyson was elected delegate to the state convention in Lima, Oct. 20-25, at the October meeting of the Columbiana branch of the W.C.T.U. in the Methodist Church Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Anna Nolsheim gave a report of the recent county convention in Rogers.

Projects for the winter were discussed during the business meeting.

Strike Threatens Goodrich Plants

Negotiators Spurred On Contract Work

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Returns from strike votes in B. F. Goodrich plants across the country spurred negotiators today as they sought to replace a contract which expires at midnight tonight.

Workers in the firm's Akron, Ohio, plants authorized a strike in balloting last night. The Akron group represents half the 18,000 Goodrich employees.

Results were expected today from voting by the other 9,000 workers at plants in Marion, Ohio; Tuscaloosa, Ala.; Miami, Okla.; Cadillac, Mich.; Oaks, Pa.; Los Angeles; Clarksville, Tenn.; and Riverside, N. J.

Representatives of the company and the CIO United Rubber Workers Union have been bargaining here for a month. A union spokesman declined to say what was holding up an agreement, and company officials could not be reached for comment.

The union spokesman also declined to speculate whether a strike would be called if a new pact is not drawn up by the deadline tonight.

Last August, in a wage reopening on the current contract, Goodrich employees got a 6 1/2-cent hourly pay boost which brought the average straight time rates in Akron plants to $2.29 hourly.

The other major rubber companies also agreed on 6 1/2-cent increases last summer. Goodrich and U.S. Rubber Co. granted the raise without strikes, but Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. were struck—Firestone for 23 days and Goodyear 53.

Speed Limit Of 70 Is Urged For Turnpike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Both trucks and autos on the Northern Ohio Turnpike will be held to a uniform top speed of 70 m.p.h. if regulations recommended by the commission's executive director are approved. The pike is to open next October.

Most turnpikes set maximum speed for trucks lower than passenger cars but a commission spokesman said the director believes a uniform top speed will promote safety.

Executive Director Robert S. Beightler yesterday handed the commission the suggested traffic regulations for commissioners' approval.

The recommendations would prohibit U-turns and ban hitchhikers, bicycles, and pedestrians from the 241-mile toll road. Also proposed was a no-passing rule on the 1,200-foot acceleration and deceleration lanes which will be located at each interchange.

To make the turnpike attractive to commercial truckers, a recommended top load for each axle was listed as 21,000 pounds and the top gross weight for any vehicle at 90,000 pounds. On Ohio highways, top axle load is 19,000 pounds and maximum gross weight 78,000 pounds.

Seventeen Boy Scouts and Scouters from the Columbiana Council area have been presented the National Award of the Order of the Arrow, Ross Ludwig, Boy Scout executive announces.

Nick Costa of Troop 45, Salem, was among those honored. Others were:

Adult scouters given the award were Eugene Seely and Frank Snowden, of Chester.

upon the department for services. These are Negley, Summitville, United Local, Wayne and Lisbon, all of which are without school nurses.

For the schools with nurses, the county health office's role will be chiefly one of offering courtesy visits upon the school's request, Dr. Pantera stated.

The board has under consideration a modified milk code which members feel would give consumers more insurance of sanitary milk.

The proposed regulation would be less complex than the United States Public Health Service milk code and would place the burden of responsibility upon the distributor rather than the producer.

Health Board To Enumerate School Service

LISBON—The Columbiana County Board of Health will enumerate services to be offered in the school health program and discuss a simplified milk code at the monthly meeting Monday night at 8 at the Courthouse.

"The school program should be in full swing two weeks after this meeting," Dr. George B. Pantera, health commissioner, announced today.

He will present a summary of the opinions of the county schools concerning what constitutes an adequate health program.

Most of the schools, even those with nurses, have agreed to a degree of supervision from the county health department and five schools will be entirely dependent

Lausche Defends Tax On Trucks

Sees Move To End Axle-Mile Levy

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche, opening a series of five televised speeches last night, said trucking interests will make an attempt to repeal the axle-mile tax on commercial trucks in the next session of the Ohio General Assembly.

Speaking over an 11-city telecast, the Democratic governor said that since passage of the tax in his current term, the truckers have been paying a "fair share for use of the highways . . . for the first time in the history of our state."

"They will try to substitute a law that will compel you, the little passenger car motorist and taxpayer, to replace the funds lost from that tax," he said. He predicted there also would be an attempt to repeal the toll road law "by the same interests that originally opposed the law."

The governor said he "deeply felt" that "every means of transportation should be developed to the fullest extent because transportation means business to a community."

But, he added, he feels the truckers were wrong in seeking to avoid their "fair share of costs."

Lausche spent much of his 15-minute speech outlining his philosophy of politics.

A good public servant, he said, "must strive forever to keep himself in a position where he can serve all the people all the time . . . The people must be supreme. To the public official I would say: 'Don't let the bosses, the lobbyists or special segments of the economy get control of you.'"

Bridegroom Has More On Mind than Traffic Ticket

HOUSTON (AP)—Johnny Goyen, corporation court clerk, found this notation yesterday on the back of an overtime parking ticket received in the mail:

"As a new bridegroom, I have many things on my mind that are more important than this. Love to all for love."

On the front of the ticket was: "See you on my return from my honeymoon in India."

The ticket was signed by Robert E. Waska, a State Department employee stationed in Karachi, Pakistan.

Goyen said he will pay the $1 fine himself.

Illness Delays Play

CINCINNATI (AP)—Actress Kim Stanley, starring in the Broadway-bound "The Traveling Girl," was stricken with a stomach ailment before curtain time last night.

A doctor was summoned from the audience. After a half-hour delay, she went on with the play.

U. S. Gets Tough With S. Korea

Tired Of Criticism Of Aid Programs

TOKYO (AP)—The United States government is fed up with Korean obstruction and criticism of American-financed economic and military programs for Korea and plans to bring the issue to a showdown in the next few weeks, it has been learned here.

Constant Korean complaining and what the United States considers lack of ROK cooperation has gotten under the skins of top American leaders in Korea and Japan.

They intend to start talking — and acting — tough.

This picture emerged after continuing recent diplomatic and military talks between the two nations. It is based on interviews with leading American officials both in Japan and Korea.

The United States has offered Korea a package of economic-military aid to build up the country's armed forces and its economy — and has put it on a "take it or leave it basis."

Highly competent sources here and in Korea say the United States does not intend to back down.

Tough old President Syngman Rhee, who has opposed the package, will have to accept it if he wants the aid program and the army buildup continued. American leaders are going to make it plain to Rhee that they expect Korean cooperation in exchange for the 700-million-dollar aid program and U.S. military equipment.

The issues between the two nations are coming to a head over the ROK shutoff of Korean currency to the American military.

The United States needs this money to pay its 100,000 Korean employees, but it wants the money at a more reasonable rate than the current exchange of 180 hwan to $1.

Black market rate of the hwan runs to 600 to 800 to $1.

The Koreans refused to negotiate the issue, competent American sources say, and finally on Oct. 1 refused to advance any more Korean money to the United States.

The U.S. military in Korea, rather than give in on the issue, may begin paying its employees in dollars or partly in dollars and partly in food.

The military money issue is only a part of the split.

Most Of U. S. Colleges Gain In Enrollment

CINCINNATI (AP)—Seven out of every 10 American colleges and universities have more students this year than they had last fall, a survey by the president of the University of Cincinnati indicated today.

President Raymond Walters makes an annual survey for School and Society, the educational journal of 800 institutions.

His preliminary report of 518 schools shows a moderate increase in total attendance in fulltime students, but the level is still far from the peak of the post-war period.

"Numbers remain way below the totals of the post-war period," he said. "But while this is a lull, it is a lively lull before the population storm of college students due in the coming decade."

The veteran educator said the big freshmen classes of teachers colleges and technological schools reflect a nationwide vocational demand.

Among teachers colleges, 89.9 per cent showed increases up to 39 per cent.

At technological institutions, 75 per cent registered gains up to 30 per cent, 15.6 per cent no gain and 9.4 per cent decreases of 1 to 10 per cent.

Walters said Korean War veterans have added only a small fraction to the normal number of freshmen who enter college direct from high school.

"A considerable proportion of the GI's registered under the Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1952 are not fulltime students but are engaged in part-time study, many of them in city universities," he commented.

Walters did not list the total attendance of the 518 schools compared with their enrollment last year.

Couple Weds In Jail

STEBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Kenneth Carrothers, 28, of Cadiz and Miss Wilma Kliner, 26, of Steubenville were married today—in the Jefferson County jail.

Carrothers has been behind bars since Sept. 1, awaiting trial on a charge he used an automobile without the owner's consent.

Sheriff's deputies, who said Miss Kliner kept pestering them, finally gave in and took up a collection to pay costs of the ceremony.

Mayor Samuel McCormick of Steubenville officiated.

Because of the charge hanging over Carrothers' head, there was no honeymoon. Carrothers went back to his cell.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK—Above newschart shows total vote polled by the Republicans and the Democrats for House of Representatives seats from 1932 to 1952. The GOP set a high for the period by getting close to 30 million votes during the 1952 election. In previous elections, the GOP had generally played "second fiddle" to the Democrats, who won more than half of the elections during the 20-year period.

Columbiana Ground Observer Post To Be Dedicated Saturday

ground observer post, activated Sept. 12, will be the scene of a dedication ceremony Saturday afternoon, Civil Defense Director George Seederly announces.

Highlighting the program will be a talk on the Ground Observer Corps by Capt. Arthur W. Masterson, commanding officer of the Canton Filter Center, and the presentation of Ground Observer Wings to 25 members of the local corps.

Capt. Masterson will be accompanied by two of his staff, Sgt. Paul Helfrich and Sgt. James Mullet, who conducted an observer's instruction school for local personnel before the post opened.

Either Mayor Walter A. Thomas or Council President Herbert Souder will represent the village and turn the keys of the post to Capt. Masterson.

WINGS WILL be pinned on six "spotters" who have put in 25 hours on watch, and 19 others who donated an equal amount of time in building the post. Practically all material and labor was donated.

Director Seederly hopes to add realism to the ceremony with a "fly-over" of jet and prop-type planes. Flight arrangements, however, have not been completed. The 3rd Area Mobile Support Group will have vehicles on display.

Mrs. Lloyd Wonseller, in charge of recruiting corps personnel, says 168 residents are enrolled watchers and that the post has been in operation an average of 135 hours per week since activation.

Seederly said more volunteers are needed, particularly men to stand the midnight to 6 a.m. shifts, the tower's inactive hours at present. A few more volunteers are needed, too, for the daylight shifts.

"In today's atomic age," Seederly said, "America's front line of defense begins right here in Columbiana. Our towns and farms may never be the target of an enemy air attack, but the job of defending America depends upon us as well as the Air Force and Civil Defense organizations in the big cities."

2½ Billion U. S. Pumped Into Indochina Seen Total Waste

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—This country pumped 2½ billion dollars into Indochina to help the French save it from communism. Sen. Mike Mansfield, Montana Democrat, says it's beginning to look like money down the drain.

Mansfield, a member of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee, went to Indochina last year. He has just returned from a second visit. Both times he reported findings.

Last year he said, and so did the Eisenhower administration, that the French, with the help of some Indochinese and American military equipment, could smash the Communist-led Vietminh who had fought the French seven years.

The French and those Indochinese who fought with them against the Vietminh, outnumbered the latter, by Mansfield's estimates, 5 to 3 in manpower and 10 to 1 in armaments, the latter largely American.

But it was the French, not the Vietminh, who were smashed. The humbled French at Geneva last summer agreed to let the Vietminh have half of Viet Nam, the largest of Indochina's three states. The other two are Laos and Cambodia.

The French are still in southern Viet Nam. But with the Vietminh in the northern half, and the Vietminh in the southern half torn by factional disputes and corruption, all Viet Nam looks shaky to Mansfield.

So does Laos, where he reports dissension and Communist infiltration. To Mansfield the only bright spot is Cambodia, where the French have given the people real independence.

The French held Indochina as a colony for almost 100 years, and they did not prepare the Vietnamese for independence by training them as administrators or soldiers who could run and protect the country if and when it got independence.

Ho Chi Minh, leader of the Vietminh, cloaked his communism under nationalism, promising the Vietnamese freedom from the French. The French still didn't realize that their day in Indochina was over.

The result: Millions of Vietnamese, fed up with French colonialism, gave their sympathy or active support to the Vietminh. So the French fought without united Vietnamese backing.

The only way in which the French could have won their war with the Vietminh, in Mansfield's view, was by meeting two conditions which he considered essential:

1. They had to give the Vietnamese full independence to offset the pull by the Vietminh who promised freedom.

2. There had to be developed among the non-Communist Vietnamese a capacity to submerge their factional, personal and sectarian interests in the larger interests of their country.

What then was the cause of failure in Indochina? Mansfield, the best informed man in the Senate on that country, says:

"If there was one overriding cause of the failure, it is to be found in the distorted emphasis given to the capacity of military measures alone to bring about an end to the Communist advance in Indochina . . .

"What was lacking in the situation was not military power but a sound political substructure for this power which could only have been built by fulfilling the two conditions previously discussed (independence and an end to factional disputes in Viet Nam)."

Michigan State Student Court Hears Appeals

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan State College has granted authority to a student court to sit in judgment on fellow students appealing campus traffic violation fines.

The five-member court is designed to handle normal "gripes" on tickets. It meets about once a week. Thus far it has received 82 appeals involving more than $700 in fines.

A complete set of driving rules was devised by students, campus police and the dean of students' office.

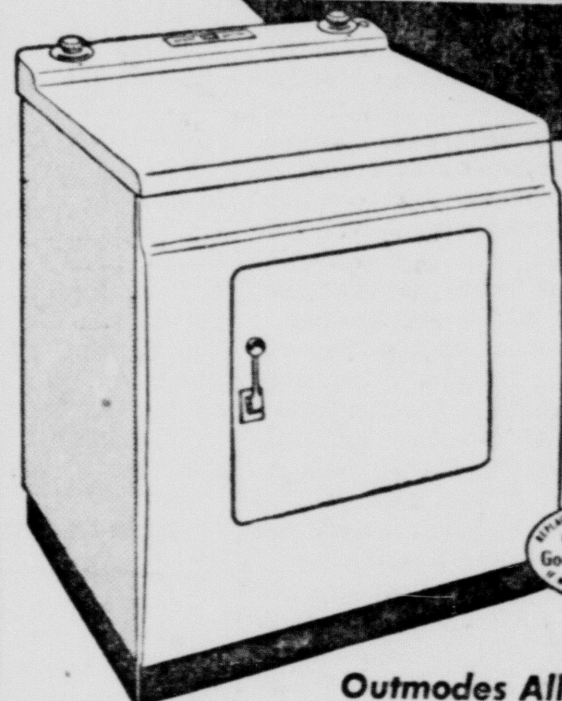

Police hung some 200 tickets on cars during the first two days of the driving rules, adopted Oct. 1.

Alleged Speeder Brings Good Witness To Help

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A cab driver in court yesterday on a speeding charge had lots of help—his witness was Edwin B. Meissner, president of the St. Louis Crime Commission and a former police commissioner.

The arresting officer testified that Elmer J. Fisher was driving 50 miles an hour.

Meissner then testified he was driving behind the cab at the same time the policeman was and that Fisher was going 30 miles an hour—the limit.

Judge David W. Fitzgibbon of the Court of Criminal Correction said both the officer and Meissner had his respect, so he fined Fisher $10 and placed him on probation from the fine.

The Race For Governor

James A. Rhodes is the latest in a line of Republican nominees to challenge Frank J. Lausche for the governorship of Ohio.

With one exception, they have been unsuccessful. Thomas J. Herbert defeated the governor in 1946 but was himself defeated in a return engagement two years later.

The reason Frank Lausche has been such a formidable opponent and, in fact, in the enviable position of seeking an unprecedented fifth term is that—for four terms—he has been a good governor.

Mr. Rhodes, who has been a capable mayor of Columbus and an efficient state auditor and might make a good governor, has searched diligently for reasons why Gov. Lausche should not be retained by the people of Ohio.

He has come up with some which he feels are valid—and they may be—but there has been considerably more fanfare than on-the-table proof, and there is doubt that the governor's candidacy has been even slightly damaged thereby.

Gov. Lausche has been an honest administrator, if not always well-advised. He has done what he felt was right without regard to political expedience. More often than not, he has acted in the best interests of the people as a whole and in so doing has aroused the anger and outspoken opposition of many militant minorities in the state.

He has remained popular, perhaps because he has not been visibly partisan in the conduct of his office. He is a Democrat but is not beholden to the party organization. He has demonstrated an independence of thought and action that has won the support of a wide cross-section of voters in both parties.

Jim Rhodes is making a vigorous campaign and has attracted widespread attention. There is every reason to believe he would bring to the governor's office, if elected, a capable and business-like handling of the state's affairs.

Baseball's New Frontiers

When the umpires cry, "Play ball!" next spring in Kansas City, major league baseball will have reached a new frontier in its westward flight.

Now that the pioneers are going to say farewell to the Mississippi River and strike out boldly into the Great Plains, it will be only a matter of time until they reach the Pacific Coast. The gold rush will have begun.

The westward march will not stop at Los Angeles and San Francisco. The pioneers will strike out across the Pacific. They will build a baseball bastion in Honolulu before they head further westward for Tokyo. By that time, the exorbitant age of aviation will have been outgrown and a team leaving its dressing room in Yankee Stadium after a night game will be shot westward on its way to Tokyo via Chicago, Kansas City, Los Angeles and Honolulu at a speed of 1,000 miles an hour in time for breakfast. Moreover, as baseball's bums and heroes whiz back and forth over the international date line in mid-Pacific, they will be able to do what all of them have longed to do—move time backward and forward in its flight.

It will be refreshing next year, to watch the Kansas Cityans. But this is only the beginning, now that the McGillicuddy's finally have lost the battle of Philadelphia. How did the Los Angeles and the San Franciscans do last night? How did the Tokyo Expresses do tomorrow? Baseball is about to crash the sound barrier.

Healers Patiently Waiting

When Dr. R. B. Powers, a dentist of Green Bay, Wisconsin, died the other day at 77, he left a will which "forgave" all persons who had failed to pay their debts to him during his 50 years of practice, and directed that their debts be considered cancelled.

This sort of thing happens often enough to warrant a standing headline being kept in type in newspaper composing rooms. Even when the will of a doctor, dentist or other professional person is silent on this subject, it somehow is taken for granted by persons who put off paying a bill until too late that the deceased healer doubts if his surviving relatives will get the money.

With or without such a "forgiving" clause in a will, of course, such a debt remains valid legally and morally. A person who has owed a medical obligation for a long time ought to feel ashamed when death intervenes.

Doctors and dentists are at a peculiar disadvantage in trying to collect bills by the same methods used by stores and other business firms. They or their secretaries usually just send periodic statements, occasionally with a courteous, ethical reminder that the amount is past due—no harsh talk, no hint of legal action.

Some people take advantage of this disinclination to place strong emphasis on money, and never think of paying for medical service at the time the service is given—and some never think of paying for it at all.

Votes At Any Price

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Distortion Is Stock In Trade Of Demagogues

Demagoguery knows no party line, and anybody who has been angered in recent months over the extremes of political denunciation in speeches by certain United States senators on the Republican side is invited in all fairness now to wax indignant over the palpable distortions by the Democrats.

Thus there is more than meets the eye in the alleged faux pas made by Charles E. Wilson, secretary of defense, when he spoke some blunt words about the indolent and lazy and uttered words of praise for those who react to unemployment by diligently trying to find a new job.

Hardly had this off-the-cuff interview been reported in abbreviated fashion in the press dispatches when the mimeograph machines at Democratic headquarters began to be oiled up as statement after statement of shocked surprise was drafted to be issued under the name of this or that Democratic senator who happened to be handy to sponsor them.

Today the nation is being told, in effect, that Wilson compares the unemployed to dogs, or that he is a business man without a heart, or that the Republican administration hasn't any humanitarianism in it. What Wilson actually said about the zeal of a bird dog as compared with the kennel-fed dog, hasn't been fairly interpreted at all, but the customary twist of misinterpretation is given which 20 years of demagoguery under the Democratic administration has made commonplace.

EVEN SOME REPUBLICANS fell for the misinterpretation and hastened to criticize Secretary Wilson instead of emphasizing the real point.

The word "bird-dogging" is established today in our vocabulary as a mark of merit in searching out the answers to unsolved problems.

If the Democratic party comments on the Wilson statement are accepted, it is politically unwise today to say that a man who loses one job is expected to try to find another. He isn't supposed to "bird dog" his way out, but to sit on his haunches and wait for someone to come and feed him.

It is considered politically wise to say only that the government owes every man a job, whether he deserves it or not. It is considered proper, moreover, to say that unemployment compensation isn't enough and that the taxpayers who are employed must be taxed to subsidize those who will not work.

There are, of course, unemployed persons who can't find jobs in their own area or in the occupation in which they are trained. Many of them will not leave their homes to find jobs elsewhere but prefer to wait till things get better in their own localities.

This is their prerogative but in any overall survey of unemployment these varying factors have to be taken into account and the want ads in the newspapers of many cities every day are pleading for persons to come to work.

WILSON IS NAIVE enough to believe that you can discuss all phases of the unemployment problem frankly. He didn't know that he couldn't speak with affection about four-legged animals without offending the two-legged. He apparently overestimated the dog-rater vote in this country. He might have known that in free America anybody is free to twist and distort and play the demagogue.

Politics has been considered heretofore to permit the saying of almost anything. Hence the wise candidate says as little as possible of a definite nature lest his words be distorted by his opponent.

Wilson is one of those honest-minded individuals who says what he thinks, which, of course, in politics is a mistake. Hypocrisy evidently pays off better.

For 20 years now the philosophy has been preached — as indeed it is in the Communist world — that the persons who have acquired property are villains whose success is due only to their mastery of the art of exploitation of the poor.

The CIO talks that way all the time. Class warfare is its stock in trade. The usual contention, moreover, is that the successful must part with sizable percentages of their incomes to pay for the mistakes of the unsuccessful.

Nobody with an ounce of charity in his system objects to paying large taxes for relief. But during the '30's the made-work on relief projects of WPA proved fruitless. In the end, only when the war boom came was the nation able by a heavy-goods program to give the unemployed the jobs they needed.

THERE IS A RIGHT way and a wrong way to relieve unemployment, and the Eisenhower program is based on sound principles.

Certainly it is most unfortunate for anybody to be without a job and nothing that Charles Wilson said could have been properly construed as a lack of sympathy for a person who has lost his job through no fault of his own, or a disparagement of anyone who hasn't been able to get a job despite every effort.

The administration's program of economic help for so-called "distress areas" negates any charges of neglect on that score.

This is not what the Democratic party demagogues have been saying or will be saying about the Wilson comment. They will make political capital out of distortion because many voters will never hear the rebuttal. It's a good example of how distortion succeeds because men of ability and good education in the leadership of the Democratic party, selfishly seeking votes at any price, know how to play on the emotions of the uninformed.

We Haven't Forgotten, Have You?

Definitions For Out Time

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

So many words have crept into our language which men use differently that I thought I might make a glossary to aid those readers who like such things.

It all started with someone calling me an arch-reactionary nothing to me as a label, for I am neither a reactionary nor arch.

Then a fellow I once tried to help out of a hole said that I pontificated which is probably true but I had no idea what he meant. He had undoubtedly read a weekly magazine's description of me as the high priest of anti-Communism and the words, high priest and pontiff, might be interchangeable, if there is any reason for it. And I presume that a pontiff pontificates, but how does he do it? Is it by word of mouth to which anyone is free not to listen or on the tuba from which one escapes with greater difficulty?

LET US LOOK at some of these terms:

Reactionary, Plain: A fellow who believes that in the 8,000 or 9,000 years of recorded human history, something happened before 1933 that is worth while.

Reactionary, Arch: One who believes the same, only more so.

Republican, Plain: A fellow who, when he thinks of it, votes for Republican candidates for public office.

Republican, Liberal: A Republican who prefers the New Deal but finds it socially, economically and politically more advantageous to use the Republican label.

Republican, Eisenhower: A Republican, Democrat, New Dealer or arch-reactionary who believes that President Eisenhower is the greatest President since Harry Truman and that his success is assured.

Republican, Taft: An old-timer with some memories of Harding, Coolidge and Hoover who wanted Robert A. Taft to be nominated in 1952 and never got over it.

Right Wing: Don't know what it means.

Middle-of-the-Road: Ditto.

I AM PARTICULARLY perturbed about the middle-of-the-road because if it is impossible to define with precision what is right wing or left wing, how does one find the middle?

McCarthyism: A congressional investigation of Communists by incorrect methods. In France, this definition would fit Dulac's objections to the French government investigating Soviet spies.

In the United States, the National Committee for an Effective Congress has tried to confuse McCarthyism with Hitler with little success.

The Watkins committee limits itself to defining it as a senator who is a boor and who says about other senators in public what they say about each other in private — also about some generals.

Fascist: A fellow who disagrees with the New Deal but is not a Communist. The term may be applied to anyone, particularly to a Son and Daughter of the American Revolution and to one who believes that the United States can get along without the United Nations.

Democrat, Plain: One who is accustomed to vote for the Democratic Party.

Democrat, Southern: A Democrat living south of the Mason-Dixon line, who is emotionally conditioned not to vote for a Republican even when he prefers to.

THIS TRADITION he has broken only for Hoover and Eisenhower with regrets.

Democrat, New Dealer: An adherent of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Democrat, Fair Dealer: An adherent of Harry Truman.

ADA (Americans for Democratic Action): Fabian Socialists who support the Democrats but also infiltrate the Republicans.

Communist: A member of the Communist party, U.S.A., disciplined by the Communist International and accepting the Marxist-Leninist principles of history, sociology and economics. He is now illegal.

Fellow-Traveler: One who accepts Communist discipline but does not join the party.

Innocent: One who goes along but does not know why.

Bevan Goes Down Fighting

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Apparently only where hatred of the United States is concerned can there be harmony in the British Labor party. In the recent trip by leaders of that party to Russia, Red China, and India there seemed to be complete agreement between former Prime Minister Attlee and Aneurin Bevan. But once back on English soil and in solemn party conclave at Scarborough, the old rivalry broke forth in violent speech and action.

Attlee and Herbert Morrison favored and carried through the conference a vote favoring the rearmament of Germany. They also won on other proposals aimed at agreement with the Conservatives on some aspects of foreign policy.

Bevan, despite all his eloquence, was thoroughly beaten and, to make his humiliation complete, he was defeated in a bid for the office of party treasurer by Hugh Gaitskill.

ESPECIALLY NOTABLE in recent events relating to Bevan was the opposition to him by the leaders of some of the major trade unions.

And so with the great skill which has carried him so far, Bevan staged a meeting at which he was cast at once as a martyr and a rebel angel. He said that he felt "a sense of emancipation." Now he would be a lone figure, carrying his message over the heads of Attlee and Co., and especially over the heads of the leaders of the unions who had opposed him.

Like all frustrated socialists, he took refuge in a call for further "education" of the workers themselves. As if the "education" of which he speaks has not been going on since the formation of the Fabian Society 70 years ago!

What Bevan is pleading for is "time" in foreign affairs. He would, if he could, divide the Western nations, slow down armament, and keep Germany helpless in the sublime faith that the leaders of the Soviet would change character and become dependable friends.

At home he would realize the ultimate Marxist society shaped according to his interpretation of it. And to do this he will now, he says, go out and win the rank and file of workers over from their present leaders. It will be unrestricted warfare against the present leaders of the party and of the trade unions.

THIS IS NO mean threat. Bevan, in his 50's, is considerably younger more vigorous and more of a demagogue.

Moreover, as he shows on every page of his book, "In Place of Fear," published in 1952, he is burning with two passions. One is hatred of the old order in Britain and everything that suggests it. The other is a lust for power.

Bevan says that when he first entered the House of Commons, all that was there, the pageantry, the traditions, the customs and rules, were not of his world or that of his ancestors.

The amenities of public life were "an elaborate conspiracy to prevent the real clash of opinion which exists outside." When he first spoke it was with a fierce wish to shock, not to convince. Hence his contempt for orderly procedure. For conservatism he had only hatred; for liberalism, contempt.

HE SAYS: "As a young miner in a South Wales colliery, my concern was with the one practical question, where does power lie in this particular State of Britain and how can it be attained by the workers? . . . It was no abstract question for us. The circumstances of our lives made it a burning, luminous mark of interrogation. Where was power and which is the road to it?"

That, three decades later, is what is driving him on. For when he says "workers," he means the inspired self-anointed spokesman for the workers, "Nye" Bevan.

A man like that cannot be written off with one defeat. He can, like Samson, destroy himself, but also like Samson he will destroy much besides.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

All Done By Parents

"I see where parents are largely to blame for the spread of criminal tendencies by teenagers," said Pop. (In his lap was the daily newspaper recording the fact that within a couple of months four big Hollywood films made crooks, killers, grafters and vicious heels of policemen.)

"Yeah," said Mom. "It's the home life." (But she was reading a review of a new movie film being shown all over the land in which the central figure is a GI war hero who comes home and leads a plot to assassinate the PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES.)

"You and I are not setting the proper example for our kids," said Pop. "It says here that something must be done about the American home."

"Thuh," nodded Mom, as she read to herself from the critic's review that, in a reference to the killing of the immortal Abraham Lincoln, the central figure in the new film had snarled, "Booth would have gotten away with it if he didn't have so much ham in him." Her eyes popped, too, as she read that he sneeringly declared from screens all over America "I never killed a president before."

"This here psychiatrist claims the country must expect the kids to go wrong as long as the proper influence ain't shown in the home," continued Pop, staring at a newspaper item which said that, despite a fight by clergymen and parents, New York City was powerless to do anything about a dozen movie houses in the heart of Times Square whose lobbies have for years displayed appeals to the baser instincts to make a fast dollar through crime and sex pictures.

"What you and I are doing to the small fry is awful," said Mom as her mind ran over an item stating that a conspicuously alert head of a police department morals squad had been allowed to find retirement but fast because he enforced the law, even in the matter of illegal bingo games.

"Here's a story that says the children kill baby-sitters, stomp old men to death in the public streets, bump off sleeping citizens in public parks and seem to take brutality as fairly normal because the American home is lax in its obligations to 'em," said Pop, as his eyes turned to the data on another fast-motion Hollywood divorce, a quickie pardon for a notorious gangster and a nose-thumbing at a Senate committee in a loyalty probe.

"We're just a couple of bums," said Mom, "Let's see what's on TV."

Pop tried five channels. They were all dealing with stickups, poisonings, gangster routines, two-timers and heels.

"We'd better give ourselves up," said Mom sadly. Pop agreed.

The Nobel Prize is being omitted this year for lack of a conspicuous contributor to peace. (That's funny; we thought the Cleveland Indians would get it.)

A. T. & T., selling all its rights to a stock subscription by Southern New England Telephone, is reducing its control, and we wonder how many folks know that the latter company was in business long before the former? It is not generally realized that the very first commercial telephone exchange in the world was opened by the Connecticut firm in New Haven. George T. Coy made the first switchboard ever constructed.

The first telephone book in history was published by the New Haven office on February 21, 1875. The advertisements said, "We intend to connect residences, stores, hack stables, etc. The instrument transmits names, figures and plain English words."

The New Haven group tried toll-line service to New York but the public thought it a crazy idea and service for six weeks only showed 19 toll calls for a total revenue of $9.50. It was the company's belief long distance service would be unprofitable that led to the organization of the A. T. & T. in 1885 and its heavy financial interest in Southern New England Phone Company in later years.

Get a load of salaries in those days! . . . The President of the first phone exchange got $25 a week and the general superintendent $20.

E. B. Baker, one of the figures in the first phone exchange was a coal and wood dealer who advertised the telephone service as a side issue. . . . In a letter citing the "high expenses" he said "I have a room and battery room for six dollars and fifty cents a month. My night man gets five dollars a month working week days from 9 p.m. to 6:45 a.m. and Sundays."

Mack Hasn't Made Up Mind, Future Of A's Still In Doubt

Vice President Hunting Backers

11 a. m. Monday Set As Action Deadline

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The future of the Philadelphia Athletics today was a giant puzzle with Roy Mack, the club's executive vice president, holding the key.

Mack had until 11 a. m. Monday to make up his mind, once and for all, whether he was (1) ready to sell the Athletics to Chicago real estate dealer Arnold Johnson or (2) prepared to produce enough capital to keep the club in Philadelphia.

Mack reportedly was scurrying in every possible direction seeking prospective "angels," but he hadn't come up—publicly at least—with anyone ready to sink funds in the proposition he has to offer, one that includes retention of Roy himself in the A's ownership.

Three Philadelphia syndicates have been jockeying with Roy in the past few days, one headed by Joan P. Crisconi, retired automobile dealer. Crisconi met with Mack yesterday but those "in the know" insist he like the other two syndicates, failed to come up with sufficient cash.

Roy tossed a bombshell into the works yesterday by announcing he had not—contrary to the generally accepted belief—agreed to sell his interest in the club when he attended an American League meeting in Chicago last Tuesday.

That statement surprised, among others, Johnson, the only individual thus far to put cash on the line for the franchise. Johnson said he was under the definite impression the sale of the A's to him for transfer to Kansas City was practically an accomplished fact.

"I have not sold my stock," said Roy. "The last thing I said before leaving the meeting in Chicago was, 'I am in a closely knit family and I want the chance to talk it over with them.' And I'm still struggling."

The other members of the "closely knit" family are Roy's brother Earle and their father Connie Sr., the man who first brought the American League franchise into being here and who guided the team's destinies for half a century. Earle has been willing to sell out his share of A's stock for some time. So has his father, while Roy has spearheaded the thus far unsuccessful movement to keep the club in Philadelphia.

Will Harridge, American League president, commented yesterday: "We took up and disposed of the matter of selling to Johnson and the transfer to Kansas City at Roy Mack's request. We (the American League owners) gave him until 11 a. m. Monday to make up his mind. At the meeting he said he would accept Johnson's offer. If he changes his mind, I suppose that is his prerogative. "There is nothing further to say. We just have to sit and wait."

Busy High School Star Supports Wife, Baby

PAUL SCHOOLEY, left, is a star halfback for Central High school. His chief routers are his wife, Doris, and their 10-month-old baby, Debra, right.

AP Newsfeatures

COLUMBUS — Paul Schooley, 18-year-old senior halfback for Central High school here, doesn't know what the word "loafing" means.

In addition to his footballing chores and classroom work, the husky griddler is married, has a 10-month old son, and is employed in a part-time job.

On Saturdays, Paul sells football programs at Ohio Stadium (home of Ohio State). While he's in school, his wife, Doris, works as a telephone operator. Their daughter, Debra, is cared for by Paul's mother, who lives next door.

Paul and Doris were hoping for a boy — another football player. Friends send them such toys as boxing gloves, footballs, helmets and other athletic equipment. But they were just as thrilled when their first-born was a girl.

Paul's teammates at Central bought little Debra a white nylon dress as a gift. Many of the gridders visit the Schooleys and play with the little one — but very gently of course.

As far as future plans are concerned, Paul hopes to attend Ohio State and major in physical education. Some day he would like to be a coach. Paul also plays basketball and is on the track team.

Ameche, Dawson Duel Saturday

Southern Cal Faces Oregon In TV Tilt

By WILL GRIMSLEY

By The Associated Press

The line-splitting rushes of Alan (The Horse) Ameche will be matched with the deadly pitching arm of Lenny Dawson tomorrow when Wisconsin and Purdue clash at Madison, Wis., in the battle of second and fifth ranked football powers.

Behind Ameche's powerful running, Wisconsin has swept through its first three games without a defeat. Dawson pitched Purdue to victory over Missouri and Notre Dame before being shackled last week in a 13-13 tie with Duke. Wisconsin is a seven-point favorite.

Duke, also unbeaten and possessing what may be the strongest team in all Dixie, will have its own hands full at Durham, N.C., where it meets a swift-hitting Army team which has scored one-sided victories over Michigan and Dartmouth.

The televised Game of the Week pits Southern California against Oregon at 4:15 p. m., EST.

Holding prime regional interest are such games as West Virginia at Penn State, pitting two unbeaten eleven of the East; Michigan State at Notre Dame; Alabama at Tennessee; and Arkansas at Texas.

Oklahoma, which catapulted into the No. 1 position in the Associated Press poll on convincing victories over California, Texas Christian and Texas, moves into its own league—the Big Seven—where the dangers aren't so grave. The Sooners play Kansas and they rule a three-touchdown favorite.

UCLA, third ranked behind Oklahoma and Wisconsin, has a home date with up-and-down Stanford and the experts figure the Uclans, the last Rose Bowl representatives, have enough single-wing power to win by 13 points.

Ohio State, also unbeaten, is host to the Iowa team which knocked off Michigan State in the first game of the season. Minnesota, the surprise of the Big Ten with three straight triumphs, takes on an Illinois team which hasn't got moving. Ohio State is fourth ranked nationally while Minnesota is No. 11. Both are favored.

Cards Top Majors In 'Gopher Balls'

NEW YORK (AP)—The sixth-place St. Louis Cardinals can trace a good portion of their National League pitching woes during the 1954 season to "gopher ball" tendencies.

Eddie Stanky's hurlers displayed their generosity in the art of "grooving" by yielding 170 home runs, tops in both circuits in that department. In 1953 the Cards' moundmen were solved for only 139 homers as St. Louis tied for fourth in the standings.

The Cincinnati Redlegs' pitching staff finished right on the heels of the Cards with 169 home runs allowed, followed by Brooklyn with 164. The Philadelphia Athletics' pitchers had 141 homers hit off them to top the American League. Baltimore hurlers were the most selfish in the majors, permitting but 78, one less than given up by Washington.

Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phils and Detroit's Steve Gromek were the individual "gopher-ball" leaders for the first time in their major league careers. Roberts grooved 35 round-trippers to National League batsmen, while Gromek paced the American League with 26.

Cleveland's Mike Garcia was the toughest pitcher for home run hitters to solve, giving up but six homers in 259 innings.

BOSTON — Don McCray, 168½, Boston, knocked out Bob Isler, 173 New York, 5.

Salem-Wintersville Contest Heads Weekend District Football Play

By LOWELL FLEISCHER

The Salem-Wintersville contest tonight heads the district football card for the weekend. The Quakers and the Golden Warriors clash at 7:45 at Reilly Field.

Coach Ben Barrett's boys are geared for an upset and news from Wintersville is that the Warriors are expecting quite a battle from the locals. The Warriors have won 1 straight games and haven't lost a contest since 1949. They tied once in 1950 with Toronto.

Barrett will start the same line-up he has used most of the season. The Columbiana Clippers and the Leetonia Bears will meet in the top district Class B tilt tonight at the Firestone Park Stadium in Columbiana. Both squads are undefeated this season. Rich Berryman's Clippers have won three games, and were held to a tie by McDonald in an Inter-County contest.

The high flying Bears boast four straight wins over East Palestine, Austintown Fitch, Louisville and Minerva. The Clippers haven't lost a game in two years, since Berryman took over the Columbiana eleven.

Columbiana won last year 18-0. During the past five years the Clippers have won three games and Leetonia two. Both coaches say their respective squads are in good shape for the tilt.

Leetonia features a fast backfield with Tony Lees, Gus Bell, Jack Sanders and Ron Stecker. The Clippers also boast backfield power in Don Greiner and Don Overholzer.

The defending Tri-County champs Coach Bud Bucher's Lisbon Blue Devils, take on the Sebring Trojans tonight at Sebring. Lisbon has come through with three straight wins after its initial loss to Akron Coventry. Sebring showed plenty of power last week as the Trojans downed Poland. Their only loss is to East Palestine.

The Trojans feature John Kolesar and a couple of other fleet backs, while Lisbon's hopes ride mainly on Jerry Rose. Rose has scored five TDs and kicked four extra points for a total of 34. Kolesar has run over eight touchdowns for 48 points.

The only other Tri-County contest billed this weekend pits the Poland Bulldogs against Louisville. The East Liverpool Potters meet the undefeated Rayen Tigers tonight at East Liverpool. The Rayenites jumped into the top ten of the state's leading high school teams last week as voted by writers of the Associated Press.

A complete list of games this weekend follows:

Indians Call Up 4 More From Indianapolis

CLEVELAND (AP)—To keep other major league clubs from drafting talent in their American Association champion Indianapolis farm club, the Cleveland Indians put four more Indianapolis players on their roster yesterday.

The four are:

Joe Caffie, 23-year-old Warren, Ohio outfielder who batted .288 in 42 games but was benched by a knee injury in the last half of the season;

First baseman Joe Altobelli, 22, from Detroit, a smooth fielder who hit .288;

Henry Aguirre, 22, a southpaw from San Gabriel, Calif., who won 13 and lost eight for the Tribe's fourth-place Class A Reading team.

Harry Simpson, who may get another crack at the right field spot he held for more of the 1951-52-53 seasons. After he fractured his left arm in an exhibition game, Simpson was sold to Indianapolis where he batted .281.

Two other Indianapolis players were sold elsewhere — infielder Owen Friend to the Boston Red Sox and pitcher Billy Joe Davidson to San Diego to the Pacific Coast League. The Tribe kept the option to repurchase Davidson, in whom it invested a $60,000 bonus when he was signed a few years ago.

Flick Instructor For Gun Safety Course

Smith Is Named Phils' Manager

Managerial Switches Coming Fast, Often

By BEN PHLEGAR
The Associated Press

The major league managerial merry-go-round is spinning at the fastest clip in history with a chance that two more baseball bosses may be taken for a ride in the near future.

Since the 1953 World Series, 10 of the 16 clubs have changed managers, two of them twice.

The latest switch came suddenly in Philadelphia yesterday where the Phillies named Mayo Smith, a greying stranger from the New York Yankees minor league farm system, to replace Terry Moore. Moore had been around only since July 15, when he took over from Steve O'Neill.

Cincinnati started the dizzy whirl a year ago in September by picking Birdie Tebbets to succeed Rogers Hornsby. Then came Eddie Joost for Jimmy Dykes on the Philadelphia Athletics. Dykes for Marty Marion at Baltimore and Walt Alston for Charlie Dressen at Brooklyn.

Action lulled until late March, when the Chicago Cubs repaid Phil Cavarretta with Stan Hack. O'Neill was fired in mid-July. Baltimore lured Paul Richards away from the Chicago White Sox in mid-September and Marion replaced him. As the season ended Washington fired Bucky Harris and brought Dressen back to the majors.

Harris was jobless only a week before being hired to replace Freddie Hutchinson at Detroit. Then the Boston Red Sox switched from Lou Boudreau to Pinky Higgins.

Still on the hot seat are Alston at Brooklyn and Joost with the Athletics. Joost is sure to go if the A's switch to Kansas City becomes official. Alston's fate will be decided on or before Nov. 29, the Brooklyn management has announced.

The 10 teams which have joined the whirl so far top by two the previous high for a single year.

The appointment of Smith, the newest man, came as a total surprise in Philadelphia although Moore's personal future had been uncertain. The 39-year-old mid-mannered Southerner managed Birmingham to third place in the Southern Assn. the past season.

His major league experience con-

Salem Brought Night Football to Ohio 25 Years Ago

The Skeptics Were Pleased and Other Schools Followed Trend; Quaker Team of 1929 Had Unbeaten Season

By RAY DEAN

It was 25 years ago this week, on Oct. 16, that Salem attracted nationwide attention when it became the first high school in Ohio to hold a night football game.

The fears of skeptics that the glamor of football would be lost under artificial lighting were dispelled when some 6,000 persons crowded into Reilly Stadium to watch Salem High School's team of 1929 beat Warren High School 6 to 0.

That particular team, coached by Floyd Stone, finished the season unbeaten.

New Castle, Pa., had an illuminated field but no high school in Ohio had tried night football until Salem pioneered it for other high schools in the state. Today even most of the smallest schools have accommodations for games played after dark.

The fanfare of night football is familiar to most everyone.

Installation of 14 lights on 10 poles at Reilly Stadium was completed only an hour before the start of the Salem-Warren game that Saturday night 25 years ago and football fans queued up at the ticket office 15 minutes before it opened.

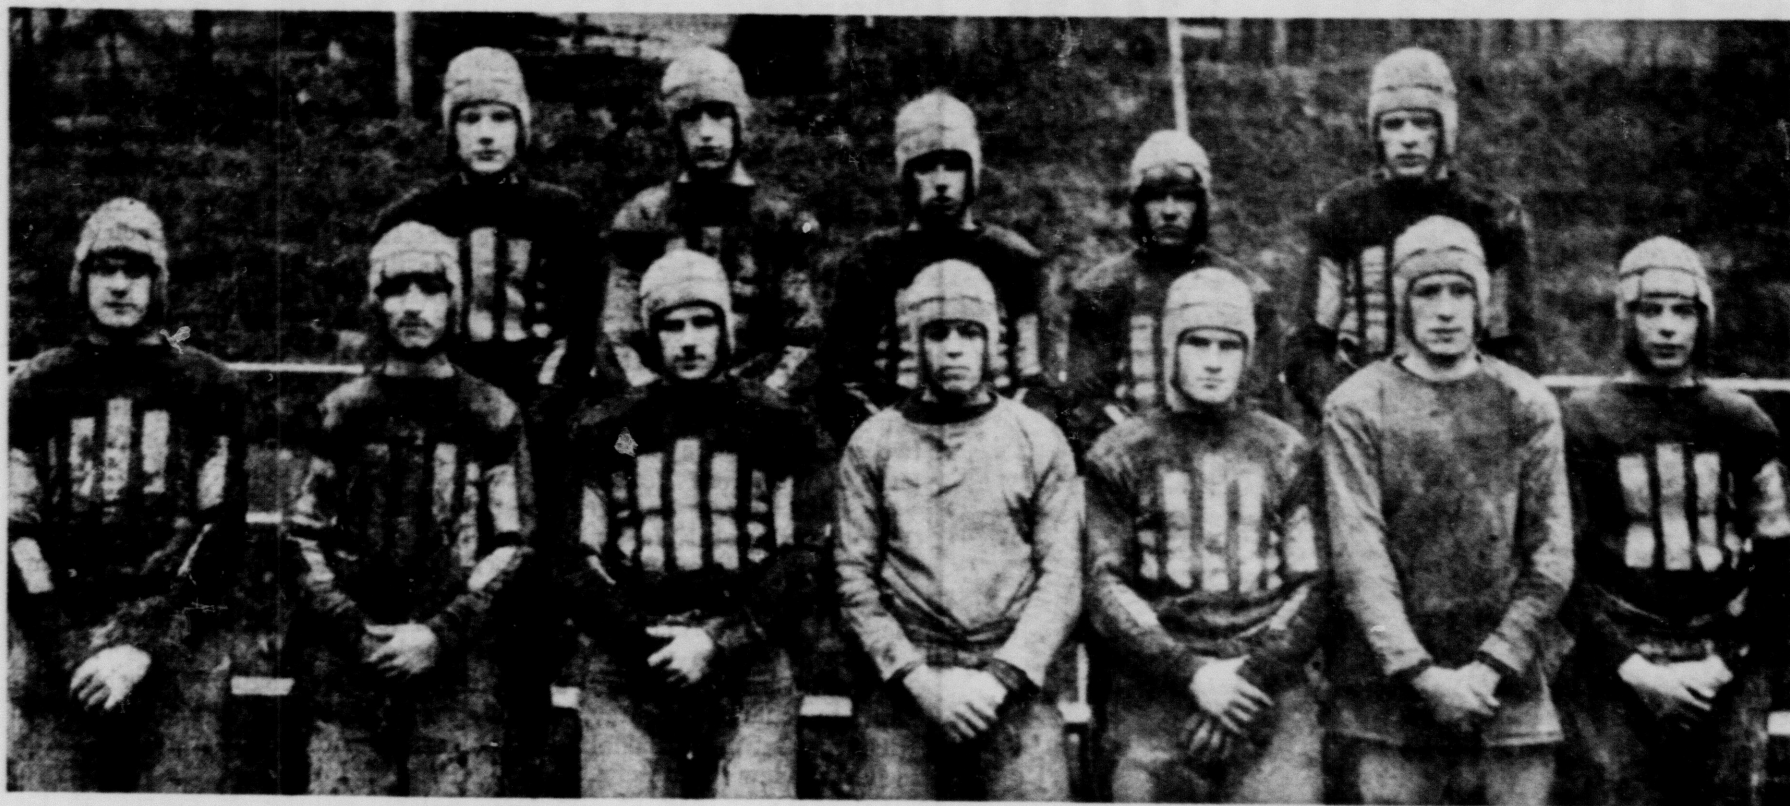

Local spectators were augmented by football enthusiasts from many sections of Ohio and western Pennsylvania. Wilbur J. Springer, then principal and athletic director at Salem High, had additional wooden bleachers erected to accommodate the crowd. Warren fans were on hand in full strength. Visitors were attracted from cities as far away as Lorain.

Salem won the game 6 to 0 but two other touchdowns plays were nullified because of penalties against Salem. The winning play came when Glenn Whinnery, fullback, passed to Bill Smith, a back, who scampered across the goal line. The try for extra point failed.

The Salem Quakers of 1929 made 11 first downs in that game to five credited to Warren. Salem completed 7 out of 13 passes. Warren was able to complete only one in 10 tries.

Records of the game show that

Ed Beck's punts averaged 47½ yards. Sammy Drakulich, quarterback, Augie Corso, right tackle, and Leonard Yates, left end, were commended for their play.

The lineup of Salem's 1929 championship team also included Mike Corso, left tackle; Wilbur Webber, left guard; Paul Sartick, center; Cliff Greenisen, right end, and Henry Reese, substitute halfback.

The Quakers of 1929, the first Salem High team to play night football, had already won four games before beating Warren at the Walhonding River and Wells Creek in Coshocton County.

CENTRAL, SOUTHERN—Smallmouth bass and catfish are running well in the Scioto River above Griggs Dam and in muddy streams of Fairfield and Franklin counties. They are being taken on minnows and hellgrammites. Buckeye Lake reports nice catches of bluegills, perch and cats.

SOUTHWEST—Streams of Butler, Greene, Logan, Montgomery, Preble, Shelby and Union counties report fair to good fishing. Catches include smallmouth bass, rock bass, bluegills, cats and carp.

GRIDDER SUSPENDED
EATON, Ohio (P)—Four regular members of the Eaton football team will not play tonight because they broke training rules, Coach Bill Pickett announced. Their names were withheld.

Denison Homecoming Saturday To Honor Champions Of 1914

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Four decades ago, in 1914, Miami invaded nearby Granville for a game with Denison. Both were contenders for the Ohio grid championship.

Denison took the game 40-33 and won the title. But the contest was a long one, and lights on automobiles parked around the field were turned on so the athletes could finish. So far as anyone can learn, it was the first Ohio college football game played under artificial lights.

Four members of the Denison team, Capt. Dave Reese at center (now commissioner of the rugged Mid-American Conference), George Roudeshush, star passer and halfback; end Carl (Dutch) Thiele, and Nelson (Knocky) Rupp, finest halfback ever to play for the Big Red, made the all-Ohio.

Rupp and Roudeshush were stars for the great Camp Sherman team of first World War days. Reese was center for the undefeated Camp Greenleaf team, Army champions of 1918, coached by the late Jock Sutherland, who also played left guard.

After the war, Denison's four-some four-time played with the Dayton Triangles in what is now the National Football League. Triangle opponents in those days included Detroit, Chicago Bears, Philadelphia, Buffalo, the Columbus Panhandles with the great Nesser brothers, Massillon with Knute Rockne and Gus Dorais, the Canton Bulldogs with Jim Thorpe, and Akron with Fritz Pollard.

Tomorrow is homecoming at Denison, with Ohio Wesleyan as the foe.

And after 40 years, the champions of 1914 will return to the campus. At five of the great team will be on hand as honored guests to see if the Big Red can continue unbeaten. Rupp, the all-time great halfback, is among the five claimed by death.

Miami, also undefeated, and

Ohio Fishing Prospect Poor For Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Try as it did to make its last fishing report of the season a bright one, the state wildlife division yesterday told Ohio bait slingers prospects for the coming weekend are gloomy.

Central and southern Ohio are the most likely spots, with catfish and bass biting.

LAKE ERIE—Perch fishing is still good in Sandusky Bay at the Shipping Channel, Battery Park, Johnson's Island and Bay Bridge. Fair perch catches have been recorded at Catawba Cliffs, Mouse Island Shoal and Scott Point Shoal. Minnows and worms are the best bait.

NORTHWEST—Lost Creek Lake is best with cats and bass. Fair bass, cat and crappie catches are reported at Lake St. Marys. Elsewhere reports are fair to poor.

NORTHEAST—Good yields of perch and crappies are coming from Mogadore Reservoir. Fishing is poor in most other sections.

EAST CENTRAL, SOUTHEAST—Bass, bluegills, crappies and cats are showing up on the stringers

Reasbeck, Aldom Speak To Jaycees

Reasbeck told of working at the rough Struthers - Campbell football series and at Massillon games when Paul Brown was coach there.

Following his talk, James Aldom, president of City Council, spoke in support of the $450,000 sewage bond issue which will be on the November ballot.

Aldom said the bond issue, together with a 35 per cent sewage rental tax, is the fairest and cheapest way of building up Salem's sewage system to meet state requirements.

Trial Of Boyle For Burglary Is Delayed

LISBON — Arraignment in Common Pleas Court for John Sterling Boyle, 31, charged with burglary, assault with intent to rape and malicious entry of an inhabited dwelling has been postponed until Monday, County Prosecutor James L. McDonald reports.

The hearing was set for today but due to the death of the defendant's father the date was advanced. Boyle's case necessitated the recall of the September grand jury which added the burglary charge to the original two indictments.

He is accused of forcing his way into a Knox Township home and threatening a mother at knife-point.

NEW RUSSIAN RECONNAISSANCE PLANES.—These two new Russian diesel-powered planes are said to be capable of flying over the United States to pinpoint targets for future A-bomb attacks, American Aviation Magazine reports. The magazine, which made available these artist's conceptions, said, the Miassischev Mi-13RD has a range of 9,000 miles, cruises at speeds near 350mph and can stay aloft 24 hours. The Tupolev four engine flying boat, below can be refueled by tanker submarine. It is being tested by the Russians for reconnaissance, the magazine said.

Pickup In Steel Demand Gains, May Get Hike By Auto Makers

NEW YORK (AP)—The pickup in demand because a series of strikes in the mines and refineries in this country and in Chile had cut off supplies of virgin copper.

Strike settlements have fore-shadowed an end to the shortage and dampened the demand for scrap. Fabricators, however, say that the demand for virgin copper is still high, since it will be some time before the copper ore now being mined again will show up as refined copper. And they are renewing their plea to Washington to relax the stockpiling program temporarily. The Office of Defense Mobilization indicates that shortly it will have an answer to these requests. So, copper earmarked for the defense stockpile may flow into civilian channels until the shortage is over.

Still more aluminum will be available shortly. Aluminum Ltd. says it will expand the capacity of its new aluminum smelter at Kilmarnock, British Columbia, by 65 per cent. This will turn another 60,000 tons of ingots a year onto the market.

The government's stockpiling policy is also affecting magnesium production. Dow Chemical says that less of the light metal is being taken by stockpilers and so it is cutting back output of the plant at Velasco, Tex., it operates for the government.

In all of these metals, defense production or stockpiling continues to act as a governor—either in bolstering demand and prices, absorbing surpluses, or in relieving shortages.

At the civilian end, demand is holding fairly steady, picking up only nominally with the coming of autumn. And, aware of idle ca-capacity to produce, users of the metals are taking their time about placing orders.

Some see in that a sign that manufacturers aren't counting on anything but a gentle rise in business in the months just ahead.

2 Fliers Risk Lives, Save $500,000 Jet

HAMILTON AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Air Force officials told the story of two fliers who risked their necks to save their $500,000 F94C Starfire jet and literally "slid home" and kept damage to $300.

Lt. Ward Tuttle, 25, pilot, took off with his radar observer, Lt. Lawrence Bubba, 26, from McClelland Field near Sacramento on a flight to Hamilton Field, near San Rafael. Tuttle's home is Bremerton, Wash. Bubba is from Easton, Pa.

On the way, their landing gear jammed.

Tuttle radioed ahead and McClelland oiled a 3,500 foot long strip of runway for the landing.

Instead of abandoning the plane by parachute, Tuttle and Bubba cut the engine, brought the plane onto the prepared runway and skidded to a halt on the oil after 2,500 feet.

Boy Has Tooth Extracted Twice

BALTIMORE (AP)—Pat Stilson, 10, pulled a loose tooth Tuesday and was told he ought to put it under a pillow and perhaps the fairies would come along and replace it with a lovely present.

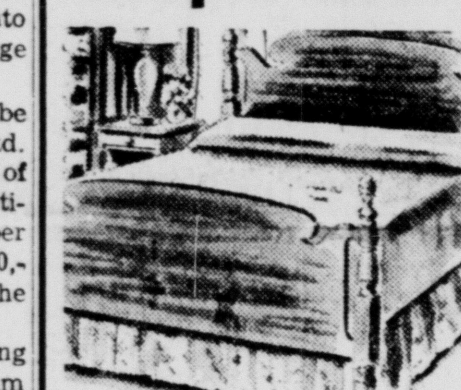

But Pat isn't the sort to be careless with merchandise of such high potential value. If he put the tooth under his pillow, it could be that one of the brothers would make off with it, he reasoned.

So he put the tooth in his ear and went to sleep.

Yesterday, he had an ear ache.

His mother took him to Johns Hopkins Hospital for the tooth's second extraction.

Home Washers--Dryers — VS. — Laundromat

An automatic home washer and a clothes dryer sell for an average of $550.00 and can be expected to last for about five years. The weekly cost of soap, bleach, gas, electricity, water and water heating (not including water softening) averages about $2.08 without any allowance for payments on the machines, depreciation or repairs. The cost of the supplies and utilities for home laundering alone, using an automatic washer and an automatic dryer, without taking into account the machine cost, will provide 40 pounds of quality (commercial) wash, fluff dried, every week indefinitely, with no investment.

Pennsylvania Democrats Whoop Victory Cry So Hard, Republicans Fear They May Be Right

(Editor's: This is another of several stories by roving Associated Press reporters analyzing the campaign in key states)

By DON WHITEHEAD
HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania is a good example today of a state where the Democrats have whooped a victory cry so insistently that even a number of Republicans appear to be halfway convinced they may be right.

As in Ohio and Michigan, Pennsylvania Democrats have seized on two themes and hammered so hard on them that they have taken the initiative in establishing the major campaign issues:

Theme No. 1: There is a groundswell of sentiment toward the Democrats because the voters are disenchanted—not with President Eisenhower himself but with his Republican administration.

Theme No. 2: The Republicans are responsible for a breakdown in the economy, and policies which have thrown men out of work, given less take-home pay to others, and reduced the farmers' income; therefore these voters are turning to the Democrats.

The effectiveness of the Democrats' strategy lies in its simplicity and the fact that no one, not even the Republicans, can be sure until election day that they aren't right. The Democrats face a 2-3 disadvantage in registrations.

The Republicans have been so busy trying to explain the slack in employment as a transition from war to peace that the record of the Eisenhower administration and the end of the war in Korea have been relegated to secondary importance. Local issues are prominent.

In an effort to get more attention on the administration's record—and to capitalize on Eisenhower's personal appeal—Republican leaders have been pushing hard for some time for the President to come to the state.

And the summer White House at Denver announced this week that Eisenhower will give an outdoor luncheon at his Gettysburg farm Oct. 23 for Pennsylvania's GOP candidates for Congress and state offices. It said the President probably will make a few informal remarks but plans no major speech.

In the last 70 years, the Democrats have elected only one governor in Pennsylvania: George H. Earle in 1934. But by hammering on the themes of a Democratic trend and on unemployment, the Democrats have the Republicans in this state on edge. This seems to be "the year of the big fear" for the Republicans.

Two years ago the Republicans had the Democrats on the run with their cries of "time for a change" and "the mess in Washington." But somewhere along the line the steam seems to have gone out of the GOP crusade. If there isn't a Democratic trend, at least the Democrats have done a good job of making a great many people think there is.

The Democrats are waging a slam-bang campaign for the governorship here and are far more optimistic than the Republicans generally in their claims of congressional seats.

National and international issues have faded into the background and local issues are dominating the gubernatorial campaign between Republican Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood and Democrat George M. Leader—with the state's unemployment the main issue.

The Democrats and Republicans aren't far apart in estimating the number of jobless. The Republicans say somewhere near 330,000, the Democrats about 377,000.

Despite the unemployment, the Republicans insist the state's economy generally is sound and improving—and that the Democrats are exaggerating the situation to gain votes.

While the Democrats are counting heavily on economic softness in coal, steel, railroads and defense plants to win votes for them, the Republicans are talking of capturing a majority of votes in Philadelphia which has been a Democratic strong point in some recent years.

Two years ago the Democrats swept the Philadelphia city elections and gave Adlai Stevenson 557,352 votes in the city to 396,874 for President Eisenhower. The state went for Eisenhower 2,415,789 to 2,146,269.

On the surface at least, the Republicans have patched up their intraparty squabbles and are united in their support of Wood although, privately, politicians say there still is bitterness between the supporters of U.S. Sen. James Duff and Gov. John S. Fine.

Fine has taken little part publicly in the campaign.

The battle for the governorship has almost totally eclipsed the fact that the outcome of the congressional races in Pennsylvania might seem the difference between Republican or Democratic control of Congress for the next two years.

Neither of the state's two GOP senators is up for re-election this year, but there are contests for all of the state's 30 House seats now divided 19 Republican and 11 Democratic.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Defense Secretary Charles Wilson, who has handled armies of men, soon will be besieged by an army of women—a political army.

Victor Riesel

This new political force needs no organizing. Its distaff squads have been set up and quietly put through intensive political briefing for months. Now, they will take hold of Secretary Wilson's recent remarks about "bird dogs" and the unemployed and fight on this line all autumn long.

Labor's political directors believe they can exploit the defense secretary's press conference comments, especially among women voters, who now hold the balance of power if they can be swung as a bloc. The unions' braintrusts believe that the defense secretary's words can unify the nation's women into just such a bloc against Republican candidates.

If this is so, labor has hit a political gold mine. President Eisenhower has said privately — and publicly — that he believes the women's vote gave him victory.

AT THE RECENT AFL convention, labor chief George Meany acknowledged that loss of the women's vote defeated Adlai Stevenson and many labor candidates. Meany said that the AFL men voted Democratic, but their wives neutralized labor's power by voting for President Eisenhower. CIO experts have repeatedly made similar statements.

So it was that both the CIO Political Action Committee and the AFL's League for Political Education set up active women's divisions. These were aimed not only at whipping labor's 3 million women members into a political machine, but at reaching the millions of working men's wives.

There are, for example, thousands of copies of a slick little CIO political pamphlet floating around the U.S. called "The New Look." It tells women that they outnumber men in the U.S. by 1½ million and that by voting they can control the land.

CIO has made a terrific study along this line of the potential of the women's vote. It has discovered that in Ohio there are 100,000 more women of voting age than men. The rubber city of Akron has 6,000 more women. Dayton, according to the CIO women's section report, has 7,000 more ladies.

In California, Los Angeles has 100,000 more. Texas may have bigger men, but they are 35,000 fewer.

than the women in the "over 21" bracket.

THERE ARE 160,000 more of the fair sex in Massachusetts, than there are voting men. New Bedford has 5,000 more, Fall River 5,000 more, Boston 27,000 more and Cambridge 3,000 more. Across the country, the story is the same. Memphis has 18,000 more voting ladies and Milwaukee, 3,000 more.

This means that the women, if they all can be urged out of the kitchen and away from household chores and worries on election day, actually hold the balance of power in many tight industrial districts.

Furthermore, they outlive us hardy men—there are three times as many widows as here are widowers from the age of 60 to 65. Which means that in years to come the female majority will increase.

To organize this distaff side into a machine which can get the women to vote pro-labor, the CIO has devised something called the "family participation conference."

The women are asked to come and tell the CIO political leaders what they want. There are no professional speakers or speeches.

There have been 25 of these parleys throughout the country—from which the women went forth to organize new groups. There will be others — state-wide, county-wide, city-wide and union-wide.

These, in turn, organize house meetings for labor-backed candidates.

ONE SUCH CANDIDATE in Arkansas recently made eight meetings in one day—giving each a half hour, starting at 10 in the morning. He spoke for 15 minutes. He answered questions for another 15 minutes. Then he left. Then the women were asked if they would each distribute 10 pieces of literature, or make 10 phone calls, or donate 50 cents, or work in headquarters two days, or put out mailings.

In one week the candidate met 1,100 "labor" women, of whom 500 volunteered for campaign work—and an area where there had been no such machine.

This is being duplicated by the big unions. Each of which is setting up auxiliaries and regional women's divisions.

It is with this new type political machine that the labor leaders will now try to exploit Charles Wilson's press conference. They believe that once they provoke anger among the women, they will have a terrific campaign force.

GRANTS WAGE INCREASE

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The Hoover Sweeper Co. of suburban North Canton has granted a 2½ per cent wage increase to 1,600 employees represented by the AFL Federal Labor Union. The boost will range from 3 to 6½ cents hourly. Current scales were unavailable.

BIGGEST SQUEEZE—“Biggest piece of machinery ever built” is the distinction claimed for this 50,000-ton press being assembled for the Aluminum Co. of America plant in Cleveland, Ohio. The 50,000 refers to pressure, not weight. The press actually will weigh 4000 tons. It extends higher in the air than a seven-story building and goes almost four stories below ground level. It is marvelously accurate. Billets of metal weighing two or three tons can be put into the dies and the press will shape them to dimensions accurate to less than 1/32 of an inch. A building which covers 12 acres of ground had to be erected to house this huge machine and another, 35,000-ton one. The entire project will cost $40,000,000.

Talented Children

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Any mother who has survived the tense ordeal of preparing her moppet for a grammar school pageant might regard Mrs. Alice Viola Clements with awe.

For Mrs. Clements, the show world's most durable foster mother, has auditioned some 300,000 talented and not so talented children in a quarter of a century.

More than 12,000 kids have appeared on "Auntie Alice's" famous "Children's Hour" Sunday program over WNBC and WNET here. The program, which recently celebrated its silver anniversary, has been a springboard for many now famous entertainers.

"So far as we've been able to find," said Mrs. Clements, "it's the oldest continuous show in radio. It has gone on for some 1,300 consecutive weeks."

It is now only a part-time task for busy, warm-hearted Mrs. Clements, who was once a Broadway dancer herself. Five years ago, after the death of her husband, she took over the operation of his Philadelphia advertising agency.

Three days a week she commutes here, where she holds auditions, and writes, directs and produces her show.

She loves to work with children, handles them easily with a firm knowing kindness.

"I had twins, but lost them as babies," she said, quietly. "Since then, I've—well, I've learned to be fond of other people's children."

Each year she contributes to the education of a number of talented children whose parents can't afford to give them the training they need.

"I've always been interested in show business," she said. "I was the youngest of seven children in a Pennsylvania Dutch family. My father had paid $400 for a piano, and none of the older children cared to play it."

"When I came along, I had to. My thrifty father simply wasn't going to let that piano go to waste. I gave my first concert debut at 8, and I wore panties made of the company printed on them."

"As I sat down to the piano, everybody in the audience started laughing. In flipping back my starched dress, I had given a free ad to the flour company."

Each night now when Mrs. Clements looks at television her heart is warmed by the sight of at least 6 to 8 performers who got their start on her program.

"Not all are stars," she said, "but they are making a living." Among the better known graduates of her children's hour are Ezra Stone, Robert Q. Lewis, Arnold Stang, Joan Roberts, Eileen Barton and Roberta Peters.

What has she learned from 25 years of working with children? "Well, the most important thing is—to treat them as adults," she said. "Children respond to reason at least as well as grownups—and they're more obedient."

"The parents often are more of a problem than the children. They never seem to be satisfied if a child has one talent. They want to push the child into everything, or claim he can do anything."

One father offered Mrs. Clements a new car if she'd put his child on her show. A jeweler offered her an expensive watch on the same basis.

"I had to turn them both down," she laughed. "The children get on the show only by their own talents. We don't audition their parents' pocketbooks."

Mrs. Clements believes that encouraging children to develop their talents helps cut down juvenile delinquency.

"A child trying to become good in anything simply doesn't have time to get into trouble," she said. She has found that child ventriloquists usually are the most highly intelligent of young performers, young comics the most mischievous.

"It's hard to hold their attention—they are always trying to make me laugh," she said. "But I suppose I really love them best of all. I always dreamed of being a comedienne—but I wasn't."

That is the key to "Auntie Alice's" success. She shares the yearning behind every child's most impossible dream, and does what she can to help it come true.
